Dear Paul:

The purpose of this letter is to respond to the excellent presentation that you and Ken Jones recently made to the Blaine City Council regarding the possible realignment of the BNSF railway line between the White Rock, B.C. and the City of Blaine.

Much like the White Rock-Crescent Beach area, the BNSF rail line along our coastline continues to present problems with noise and frequent delays at the three rail crossings in Blaine. This problem has been exacerbated by increases in rail traffic combined with the siting of the VACIS and x-ray inspection equipment near Bell Road at the south end of Blaine. We constantly receive complaints from citizens upset with noise, long waits and concerns about emergency services.

The relocation of the railway line appears to have several obvious benefits to the City of Blaine. However, the issues are very complex. Until a very thorough analysis of the project is completed, it is impossible for us to determine whether the benefits will outweigh the negative impacts on our community.

Such an analysis will be extremely expensive and must be lead by Washington State and the Federal government. It appears to us that these partners have are not fully engaged in the realignment project. We believe that to engage our State and Federal governments will take formal action on the part of your provincial government.

The City of Blaine stands ready to fully participate with your government and ours in evaluating the possible realignment of the BNSF railway line through Blaine.

We appreciate your efforts and vision. Please keep us informed of the opportunities for us to learn more about the project.

Sincerely yours,

Mike Myers, Mayor
Blaine City Council
